- In the hair care product category, sales of leave-in treatment Elujuda, launched in February, has been steadily increased. Seminars and training programs for priority products such as Linkage- $\mu(\mathrm{mu})$ and Inphenom went well, and educational activities at the customer salons are also well received. Such activities contributed to the increase in the revenue growth by category as well as the total sales. Volume Mist, new root volumizer available only in the United States, was launched in April. Volumizer is the leading styling product and market is very competitive in the United States, but Volume Mist received a good reputation from stylists who like natural and soft body and sales has been steadily increased.
- In the permanent wave product category, educational activities were focused on new Highlight Smoothing Menu (*) using primary straightener Liscio. Highlight Smoothing Technique has proven very popular; however, sales of product category decreased due to the existing shrinking market.
*Highlight Smoothing Menu: salon technique to provide smooth texture on even super damaged highlighted hair by hair color chemicals such as permanent color or bleaching products.

- Mid-income people's awareness of trend and style has been growing. Educational activities given by Japanese top stylists and Fieldpersons improve Chinese hair dresser's technique, product knowledge and hair-designing skills. As a result, hair dressers gained the ability to meet their customer's needs and expectations, and that helps the salons to increase the number of customers and also average sales per customer.
- After the establishment of Beijing branch office, market share in northern area of China steadily growing. (year-on-year comparison 178\%)

- Additional two items for Ordeve to match Spring/Summer trend are in good demand and account for $18 \%$ of the total sales of Ordeve, resulting in the substantial sales increase in hair coloring product category. In order to enhance the value of hair color at the salons, specially-made wagons for hair color and originally-made color charts were produced. Milbon Korea tries to increase its market share by utilizing such promotional tools.
- Pusan Studio has been established in September, and work on business expansion by providing educational activities for hair coloring technique as a main supportive activities.
